

ANDREA CAGNETTI (1967 -)

Revival Archeological pair of gold disk earrings.

H. 10,8 cm ; total weight 49,60 gr

Italy, 20th century

Directly inspired from the beautiful and complex Hellenistic gold earrings with disk and boat-shaped pendant of the late 4th century BCE.

This work unsigned, but attributed to the Italian artist and goldsmith master Andrea Cagnetti so-called 'Akelo' (born 1967 -) .

Several of his creations are curated in international museums.

The original model of this pair is an earring from the collection of jewellery buried with a woman, ca.400-350 B.C., in a famous tomb unearthed at Kul Oba in southern Russia in 1830, Villa Giulia, Rome, Castellani collection, inv. 85073

For an other similar example see Metropolitan Museum, NY, 48.11.2,,3