

A modern gold ring set with a Neoclassical carnelian intaglio. Bust of Bacchante.

Circa: Early 19th century

Intaglio: 2.0 x 1.7 cm (0 ³/₄ x 0 ⁵/₈ inches)

Mounting: UK size K^{1/2}; total weight 10,65 gr

Early 19th century

The bacchante is facing right, with a naked bust and hair adorned with bunches of grapes. In the background her attributes—the thyrsus and a small cup for wine. Attractive color of the stone. The gem is set in an older gold frame from a Georgian seal converted into a modern ring. Very good condition.
